

LaGuardia Gateway Partners

Stewart Steeves, LGP Chief Executive Officer

Stewart Steeves is the senior executive leading the $4 billion LaGuardia Central Terminal Building redevelopment project for LaGuardia Gateway Partners, the team selected by the Port Authority of New York and New Jersey to build the new terminal, central hall and supporting infrastructure. Prior to becoming CEO of LGP he was CFO at Vantage Airport Group, in charge of asset management and overseeing an international network of airports around the world. Prior to joining Vantage Airport Group at its head office in 2013, he was the president and CEO of Nassau Airport Development Company (NAD) where he oversaw more than 150 employees and a $500 million capital redevelopment and improvement project.

Mr. Steeves has held senior positions at two Vantage airports—Nassau in The Bahamas and Hamilton International Airport in Ontario, Canada—and at Vancouver Airport Authority. Prior to becoming CEO in Nassau, he was the company's Vice President, Airport Development and Vice President of Finance and CFO, in which roles he managed construction activity and completed financing for the terminal redevelopment project. Prior to joining Vantage, Mr. Steeves' experience included roles in project finance at HSBC in Vancouver, B.C. and construction management at Turner Construction in Chicago, Illinois.

Mr. Steeves holds a Bachelor of Applied Science Degree (Civil Engineering) from the University of Toronto, and an MBA from the Ivey School of Business at the University of Western Ontario. He is also a Professional Engineer, a Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) and a licensed pilot. In May 2017, Mr. Steeves was named as one of City & State's top 25 Queens Influentials.